A DEMONSTRATION AT HAVANA.

Deputations Call on the Captain-
General Who Makes a Speech.
Says He Has "Nearly Pacified"
Four of the Provinces.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]
MADRID, Oct. 6.—[By Atlantic Cable.] Señor Sagasta, the Premier, has received a cable message from Capt. Gen. Weyler, who offers his services to the government, and says: "I shall not resign."

AUTONOMY PROMISED.
[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]
MADRID, Oct. 6.—At the Cabinet council tonight, the government decided to grant autonomy to Cuba under the suzerainty of Spain and to continue the campaign as long as may be necessary.

Señor Gallon, Minister of Foreign Affairs, explained to the Cabinet the position of the diplomatic negotiations with the United States.

DEATH TO UNCLE SAM.
Cheerful War Cry of the Havana Spaniards—Americans in Peril.
[BY THE TIMES' SPECIAL WIRE.]
NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—[Special Dispatch.] The Sun's Havana special, via Key West, says:

"At 6 o'clock this morning the uncompromising merchants in Havana closed their stores and the threatening groups of Spanish volunteers began to march along the streets, crying, 'Death to the United States; long live Spain! Long live Gen. Weyler! Death to traitors!'"

"The whole city is in a state of terror. A large mass meeting of Spaniards has been called to meet at the Casino Español, in honor of Gen. Weyler. Placards have been posted in all streets summoning the loyal Spaniards to the Casino, and inciting them to firmly support the present policy, as the placards say, 'The savior of Spain!'"

"The excitement against the United States is so intense that an attack on Americans is feared. Cuban families are also in great danger. The city presents the same aspect of anarchy that it bore in 1895. If the government recalls Weyler, outrages upon American citizens and attacks upon the American Consulate are almost certain to occur. The mobs that are parading the streets are also lifting their voices against autonomy, and the autonomists themselves, led by Señor Montoro, declare that Weyler must not be recalled, and that it is a shame for Spain to grant reforms 'under the pressure of the United States.'"

"Gen. Weyler's factious and favorite, Col. Escribano, chief of staff of the captain-general, is the man who started all this boisterous Weylerism through his agents, sent out into all quarters of the city. Gen. Weyler himself has publicly declared that he 'can neither resign nor accept a recall, because he is sure to end the revolution in a few weeks.'"

DEMONSTRATION AT HAVANA.
After a Parade Deputations Call on Weyler—His Reply.
[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]
HAVANA, Oct. 6.—[By Central American Cable.] In spite of Capt. Gen. Weyler's prohibition, a notable demonstration took place here today, as was also the principal stores and the tobacco and other manufacturers. All the main streets were gaily decorated. The various processions united at Central Park, and then moved together to the plaza in front of the Captain-General's palace, where as many as 20,000 people were gathered. Several bands discoursed patriotic music. The plaza and the thoroughfares leading into it were densely crowded. A number of deputations went to the palace, where they were received by the Captain-General. According to the official accounts, they assured him that it was the desire of all the loyal inhabitants of the island that he should continue at the head of the government and carry on the campaign against the insurgents. They also expressed "confidence that the Madrid government was inspired with altogether too high designs for the welfare of the country to withdraw the illustrious chief who had subjugated the insurrection."

Capt. Gen. Weyler, after thanking the deputations for their assurances, said he had accepted the command in difficult circumstances, and the success of the campaign could not be estimated and properly appreciated by the country from the visible facts. In the course of seven months, four important provinces had been nearly pacified, and he was confident of being able to pacify the two remaining provinces at the proper time with the forty battalions ready for the task.

"The delicate position in which I have been placed," said the Captain-General, "has compelled me to request the government to dispose of my position in whatever way it may think convenient, and however the matter may be decided, I shall always be profoundly grateful to the loyal inhabitants of Cuba, who in such eloquent terms have expressed their absolute approval of the policy I am following to bring the war to a close."

NEW MINISTRY CRITICIZED.
[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]
NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—A dispatch to the World from Madrid says: "The new Cabinet has certainly not answered expectations in the Madrid or the provinces, and already the opposition press and politicians criticize it sharply."

PAMPHLET ON SANGUILLY.
[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]
WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—The celebrated case of Julio SangUILLY is printed in a pamphlet issued today by SangUILLY's counsel here, José Rodríguez. It tells the story in detail, and gives a number of letters passing between the Secretary of the Interior, Sherman, Consul-General Lee and the United States Minister at Madrid, Hanna, and the whole document upholds the course of President Cleveland and Secretary Olney, and points out that the agitation in SangUILLY's behalf in Congress served only to prejudice his case. It ascribes his release to skillful diplomatic management.

SENATOR DAVIS INTERVIEWED.
Says the United States Has Pursued a Forbearing Course.
[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]
ST. PAUL (Minn.), Oct. 6.—The Pioneer Press will tomorrow publish a lengthy interview with Senator Davis, chairman of the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations, relating to the Cuban question.

Senator Davis doubts if any ministry extending autonomy to Cuba would be sustained by the Spanish people, or whether it would, in any event, be accepted by Cuba save through the influence of our government with the people of the island. He does not favor immediate annexation of the island, but is of the opinion that, should it secure independence, its ultimate destiny is to enter our union without aggressive action on our part.

At any time with Spain over the question, and he looks for the collapse of Spanish power in Cuba before the close of the dry season. He believes that the instructions of Minister Woodford were not in the nature of an ultimatum, they were quite possibly of such a nature as to produce the necessary change in policy in Spain. In conclusion he says:

"I want to say this, that the United States has throughout the last administration pursued a policy of forbearance toward Spain, and this policy has been justified by the course of Cuba should, in my opinion, have been continued long ago. This government has refrained from doing so, and has enforced our neutrality laws against her own citizens with the greatest stringency, while 'Spain has had every opportunity, so far as this government is concerned, to win back Cuba by coercion or negotiations, and has failed to do so. The modern which the United States has displayed has been recognized and wondered at by many of the leading journals of England and continental Europe.'"

Prosecution Gets in Strongly Against the Defense—Emma Schimpke Shows Her Testimony Was Misunderstood—Wisconsin Woman.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]
CHICAGO, Oct. 6.—The testimony in the Luetgert trial was more interesting to the general public than it has been at any time for the past two weeks. The dry technical evidence of the experts gave way to impeachment evidence offered by the State against the witnesses for the defense, who had stated on the stand that Mrs. Luetgert had been seen in the vicinity of Kenosha, Wis., within a few days after the murder is said to have been committed.

Several of those who claimed to have seen the woman around Kenosha fared badly at the hands of their neighbors, and Witness Scholey, the principal witness for the defense on the Kenosha story, had his character torn into shreds. One of his neighbors who testified against him said he did not know what was meant by Scholey's "veracity," but made himself clear in the next breath by adding: "I do know, though, that Scholey is no good."

Evidence was introduced to show that Luetgert had not put any grease or oil on his hands, as the defense had testified, because it had all been carted away on the morning before. It was also shown that Luetgert had no occasion to make any soap, for when the factory was seized by a deputy sheriff several days after the murder is said to have been committed, a great many barrels of soap belonging to him were found in the basement of the factory.

Emma Schimpke was recalled to the witness stand, and an effort was made to show by her that the impeaching evidence that had been produced by the defense on her testimony was the result of a misunderstanding of her story. On direct examination she had stated that she saw Luetgert and his wife going toward the sausage factory at 10:30 o'clock the night of May 1. She was asked to explain the present pursuit if she had not testified to seeing Luetgert and his wife on May 23. The witness said she had not. She had said, however, that on the night of May 23 she met Harry Fiedler and other boys at about the same point she met them on the night of May 1, upon which date she had seen Luetgert and his wife.

Attorney Philan showed questions upon the witness relative to her meeting boys at night. Her face became scarlet, and she became angry and snapped back her replies in a manner that amused Judge Tuthill, while the spectators smiled broadly.

Tomorrow witnesses from Kenosha, Wis., will be called to the stand to refute the stories of the persons who stated positively that they saw Mrs. Luetgert in the Wisconsin town on May 3, 4 and 5. It is expected that these witnesses will be confronted with the woman whom they mistook for Mrs. Luetgert.

AFTERNOON ACCOUNT.
[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]
CHICAGO, Oct. 6.—The taking of testimony in the Luetgert trial moved with refreshing rapidity today. The reputation of Matt Scholey, who swore to having seen Mrs. Luetgert in Kenosha after the date of the supposed murder, was attacked today, and witnesses followed each other on the stand in rapid succession to say they would not believe him under oath.

CHILD-KILLERS.
Evidence Against Two Colored Women of Camden, N. J.
[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]
CAMDEN (N. J.), Oct. 6.—Mrs. Mary Sammon and Mrs. Jennie Layton, two colored women, were arrested today on suspicion of being concerned in the deaths of three children, all of whom died under circumstances requiring a coroner's certificate.

The matter first came to Coroner Lippincott's attention today when he was called to the women's home in connection with the death of Joseph Breckenridge, aged 2 years, a foster child of Mrs. Sammon. The boy's lips and hands showed what looked like carbolic-acid burns. Mrs. Sammon said the boy had been treated for diphtheria sore throat, and denied having administered any poison. In view of the past deaths at the house and the present suspicious circumstances, the Coroner ordered the arrest of both women.

After investigation it was learned that all of Mrs. Layton's five children had died, and a coroner's certificate was required in each instance. The Coroner said he was called to the house on September 17, and gave a certificate in the case of Joseph Layton, aged 2 years, and four days later Erasmus Layton, aged 2 months, also died suddenly.

During the day a post-mortem examination on the Breckenridge boy was made, but before arriving at a decision, it was decided to submit the heart and lungs to a chemical analysis. The remains of the two Layton children, who were disinterred and also examined. The women are held in custody.

INDIA INTRACTABLE.
Will not Reopen Her Minds to Silver Coinage.
[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]
NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—A dispatch to the Herald from Paris says the Herald is informed from a trustworthy source that the Indian government, in reply to a further pressing invitation by the English Cabinet to consider Senator Wolcott's proposals, has answered that it cannot reopen the question of the Indian currency, and it will not be a party to the reopening of the mints for the free coinage of silver.

In well-informed English circles, adds the dispatch, it is not believed the Cabinet will dare to overrule the decision of the Indian government. Senator Wolcott's mission must thus be considered abortive.

Mr. Ainslee's Opinion.
NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—It is reported tonight that Democratic National Committeeman Ainslee of Idaho has sent a telegram declaring it to be his opinion that the Henry George Democracy should be recognized as the regular Democratic party in the city of New York.

Safes Piled Up and Dynamite

Sends the Robbers Kiting—Ex-

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]
KANSAS CITY, Oct. 6.—Bandits held up the Chicago and Alton train tonight at a point less than six miles from Kansas City. The robbery is the third occurring on that road within a year, all within fifteen miles of this city.

The Chicago and St. Louis express which pulled out of the Union Depot at 3:30 o'clock this evening, was stopped by eight masked men at Evanston, a suburban stopping place just beyond Washington Park. Evanston is about eight miles nearer to Kansas City than Blue Cut, made celebrated by the notorious James gang, and which was the scene of two previous robberies on the Chicago and Alton within a year, once on December 23 last and once on October 23 last.

The train was stopped at the Evanston siding by the explosion of torpedoes which had been placed on the track. When the conductor and brakemen went out to ascertain the cause of the trouble they were covered with revolvers in the hands of four of the eight road agents. The other four quickly covered the engineer and fireman. The brakemen were compelled to uncouple the baggage and express cars from the passenger coaches.

While this was being done, one of the robbers busied himself by going through the pockets of Conductor Graves, who was relieved of $22 in coin.

In the meantime, the bandits at the head of the train had ordered Engineer Vollette and his fireman to climb down out of their cab. Engineer Vollette hesitated until a pistol ball was sent whistling by his ears. He and the fireman, after this persuasion, climbed down quickly, and two of the robbers immediately took their places. The others of the bandit crowd jumped aboard the express cars.

This part of the train which they ran up the track toward Independence, Mo., about a quarter of a mile. They then compelled the frightened messenger to open the doors of his car. The messenger once opened, they dragged the messenger out by the legs, throwing him to the ground, and then took his gun away from him. The messenger was then compelled to walk back toward the other portion of the train. After securing complete possession of the engine and the baggage and express cars, the bandits placed twenty-four sticks of dynamite upon the big through safe, and then lifted the smaller way safe upon top of it. They applied the fuse and the match, and then evidently waited for the explosive to reveal to them the treasure for which so much had been risked.

But, for some reason, the explosive did not go off, and from subsequent developments, it is evident that dynamite had great terror for the men who were not afraid to run the ordinary risks of train-robbery. It is clear that they were afraid to return to the express car, for, after having taken the money for the expected explosion, they hurriedly left the place, running into the underbrush which skirts the railway in that section.

The trainmen, who had been left behind with the passenger coaches, politely waited a reasonable length of time for the robbers to complete their work, and then they saw the engine and the two cars. After some delay—for they, too, were afraid of the dynamite—they succeeded in lifting down the engine from the track. There seems to be little chance of their overtaking any of the robbers, as it is believed the gang, by scattering and coming in one at a time, will have little trouble in getting back into Kansas City or Independence.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 6.—Thirty people were injured tonight, several of them seriously, by the falling of a platform at the Fifteenth-street station of the Independence Electric Railway. The station was crowded with suburban residents, who were returning home from the carnival festivities. The platform, which was old and weak, gave way under the strain, and when it went down, probably fifty people were precipitated a distance of eighteen feet. The most seriously injured are:

MRS. L. W. BALDWIN, Independence, Mo., aged 63, spine injured; may die.

MRS. R. M. VENABLE, Independence, shoulder dislocated.

SALLIE RICE, aged 9, Independence, leg broken.

MRS. J. T. WALKER, Independence, jaw broken.

MRS. LILLY SCOTT, Kansas City, jaw broken.

THE AFTERNOON ACCOUNT.

KANSAS CITY (Mo.), Oct. 6.—The annual flower parade in connection with the carnival convention was held this afternoon, and was one of the finest ever held in the country. There were eighty-nine entries, including phantoms, traps, and carriages, headed with floats of the Queen of the Carnival (Miss Frances C. Stevens), surrounded by her maids of honor, rode a beautiful float. Thousands lined the streets.

BILLY BOY BRYAN.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 6.—Hon. William Jennings Bryan was a carnival attraction in Kansas City tonight. In an amphitheater erected on Grand avenue, he spoke to fully forty thousand people. He discussed political and financial matters, the address being on the lines of many of his recent speeches throughout the West. Fences had been built across the street in order to compel the crowd to pay to hear him, but the orator was so popular that the fences which had been erected on either side of the street.

When the seats had been nearly filled, the carnival manager became so great and so determined that the fences were pushed down, despite all efforts of the police, and the crowd surged in around 6 o'clock, and the orator was to speak. The carnival officials and the Bryan Democratic Club, under whose auspices the Nebraska spoke, were responsible for this arrangement.

OTHER FESTIVITIES.

Denver En Masque—German-American Day at Nashville.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

DENVER, Oct. 6.—The feature of the festival of Mountain and Plain today was the masked parade, followed by promiscuous masking in the streets from 3 until 6 o'clock, and an outdoor masked ball tonight. Business was generally suspended. After the band contest, twenty-five bands marched through the streets playing in unison with a total of 600 instruments.

BIG DAY AT NASHVILLE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

NASHVILLE, Oct. 6.—German-American day was celebrated at the Tennessee Exposition today by thousands of citizens of Nashville, Louisville, Cincinnati, Chicago, St. Louis and other cities. The day was exceedingly pleasant. All regular and special trains arriving this morning were crowded, and other trains due in the afternoon brought large delegations.

The exercises were held in the Auditorium, where, after prayers by Rev. Dr. Peschan of Pennsylvania, addresses of welcome were delivered by John Sunn and Maj. John J. McCann. Gov. Taylor and Mayor McCarthy welcomed the visitors on the various buildings. The city and Sunn then introduced Hon. Richard Barthold, Congressman from Missouri, who delivered an able address. Rev. John Greening also spoke.

German and American airs were rendered by the band. The German and American flags were conspicuously displayed on the various buildings. The programme for the afternoon included a reception at the Woman's building, a lecture by Dr. Peschan and music by the Swiss Choral Society.

Rebels Abandon Quetzaltenango Without Firing a Shot.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—A dispatch to the Herald from Guatemala says: "Official reports from all points today give accounts of many victories of Dictator Barrios's army, and now it begins to look as if the tide of war has turned strongly against the rebels. According to official reports just received the city of Quetzaltenango, which has been held by the rebels for several days, was occupied this morning by the Federal forces without firing a shot. The rebels in the city fled toward San Marcos, leaving a large quantity of arms, ammunition and several field pieces. Gen. Socorro de Leon and several other rebel officers were captured. Gen. de Leon at the beginning of the rebellion was sent with a battalion against the rebels, but instead of attacking them, he turned his command over to the rebels. He will be immediately court-martialed and probably shot.

The government's advances from the city Totonicapan report severe fighting there on Sunday, with complete triumph for government arms. The fighting began at 11:30 o'clock in the morning and continued until late in the evening.

THE BEAR'S PAW.

IT IS LIVING PRETTY WELL OVER THE FAR EAST.

The Orient and Britain Are Wondering What May Be the Purpose of the Russians—Large Army and Aggressive Movements.

[BY THE TIMES' SPECIAL WIRE.]

TACOMA, Oct. 6.—[Special Dispatch.] Oriental cities, and British interests in particular, are greatly interested in Russia's aggressive movements in the far East, which are gathering momentum with each month. These aggressions are of two kinds, diplomatic and military. Oriental cities received today state that 100,000 Russian soldiers now massed on the frontier near Vladivostok. This news is confirmed from Japanese sources. The need of all these soldiers is not understood in the Orient, but it is supposed that they are considered desirable as a means of backing up diplomatic moves in progress in Korea, Japan and China.

This is a much larger force than Russia has ever had before in Siberia and necessitates for to provide for them. Russian agents have just purchased an immense quantity of rice at Shanghai and Saigon for shipment to Vladivostok. Detachments of troops are to be stationed in Manchuria during the building of the Trans-Siberian railway through that Chinese province. It is announced that under the Russian-Chinese convention Russia is to have general police control of the district through which the railroad passes. This is one of the things to which the British and Japanese interests are objecting. It is probable that similar control will be granted to Russia in the southern extension of the railroad through China proper to an open port which will become Russia's great naval station.

Russia is considered today the controlling power in Korea, as well as Manchuria and the Liaotung peninsula. It is pointed out that she now seeks similar power in both China and Japan. When the special Russian ambassadors who brought gifts from the Czar to the Emperor, were in Peking recently, they offered to China the service of Russian troops to drill the Chinese army free of all expense. This was one of Russia's diplomatic moves, but it failed because China diplomatically declined on the plea that the soldiers might be unwilling to obey the foreign officers.

AMERICAN BOTTOMS.

Navy Department Seeking a Study of the Present Maritime.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—A dispatch from Washington says: "The Navy Department has sent letters to the leading steamship agents whose vessels have American registry, requesting information as to the displacement, speed and general adaptability of the vessels for war purposes. All ships of great tonnage now built for the coast trade are to be drilled in the requirements of the navy as auxiliary cruisers, should their service be required. The navy department is carrying on its list vessels that would be available as commerce-destroyers in war-time the names of forty-two ships, the names of which are as follows: Atlantic Coast, six on the Pacific and four on the Great Lakes.

"Chief constructor Hiebhorn, under whose direction plans are being drawn by which the St. Louis type of vessels could be converted into formidable modern auxiliary cruisers, estimates that the navy would need to construct in three weeks fully equipped with an effective battery and with the vitals for protection by system of coal-burners. He estimates that the navy now has about one dozen ships which could be quickly converted under the plan proposed, and that the others could be made in a little more time.

"He anticipates that at least five years will be required to draw plans for the full list of vessels to be converted into warships, and that by that time titles will have been delivered at the navy yard for every one of such ships.

"Capt. O'Neill the ordnance chief, will, in his annual report now in course of preparation, urge that $500,000 be provided with which to manufacture guns for reserve purposes. These guns, he proposes locating at New York, Long Island and Norfolk, with carriages and equipment complete, so that they can be mounted on shipboard at short notice."

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

W. Covert of St. Louis representing the National Anti-Spiritualistic Association, and Moses Hull representing the National Spiritualistic Association.

Hull opened, and for the first two nights will affirm that "Modern Spiritualism is in harmony with the teachings of history and reason." The last two nights, Covert will affirm that "Spiritualism is a system of religion and philosophy is a delusion, a fraud and a lie."

Prof. Peabody of San Diego, Cal., is representative of the Spiritualists' Association, J. H. Magan of Detroit, Mich., of the Anti-Spiritualistic Association, John Pence, an Indiana banker, is moderator. In the audience were the leading Spiritualists of the nation. This is the first time two men have ever met on this subject with the official endorsement of the national associations, and it is, therefore, really the first national discussion.

A Kentucky Bad Man.

DENVER, Oct. 6.—Cursing the officers who held him in custody and threatening to take their lives at the first opportunity, Jay Draughon, alias Hiram Baker, a wounded Kentuckian, was taken to the depot on a stretcher and placed on the train for Paintsville, Ky., where he is expected to be murdered by Ben Cunningham and the shooting of Sam Rice. Some weeks ago he also killed R. E. L. Draughon near Gray, Colo., and in the fight was seriously wounded by a bullet which broke his left shoulder. The coroner's jury exonerated him.

Detroit the Scene of Considerable Destruction—Flames Break Out in the Warehouse and Gut Other Buildings.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

OTTAWA, Oct. 6.—Five bodies have been recovered near South Indian, as a result of the forest fires. They are those of Mrs. Leavitt, Mrs. Stiles, her sister, and Mrs. Leavitt's two children, one an infant and the other 2 years old. The women rushed from their house to escape to the clearing, but the smoke surrounded them, they missed their way and ran into the flames. Had they remained in their dwelling houses, South Indian they would have been perfectly safe, as it was not touched by the fire.

Two or three houses are all that is left of a thriving village at South Indian. Two houses and a hotel are all that remain of Casselman. The village of Casselman, South Indian, one of the most destitute were brought to this city this afternoon, and the others are being provided for at farm houses and elsewhere.

LATER—Another victim has been added to those who perished in the fire at South Indian. Mrs. Leavitt, a widow, was found dead some distance from where the village once stood, burned to death.

A special train was sent from Ottawa with provisions for the sufferers.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

OTTAWA (Ont.), Oct. 6.—The Atlantic Railroad has not yet been able to get a train to Casselman on account of a fire which has started in that vicinity and which raged all night. Three villages, Casselman, South Indian and Cheney were swept away.

The train which arrived at Casselman at noon yesterday from Montreal, bound for Ottawa, was stopped by the fire all night, reaching here this morning. Early this morning the people of Casselman, about five hundred, were reported as having fled to the river without sufficient clothing or anything to eat. At South Indian, which has a population of 500, only three houses were left standing. South Indian is several miles from Casselman. Cheney is also near South Indian. The fire covered a distance of about twenty-five miles.

Casselman had 100 residences, a lumber mill, grist mill, furniture factory and several other business places of importance. Casselman is being forwarded from Ottawa.

It is reported that two women and children were burned to death at South Indian and one woman at Cheney.

SEVEN LIVES LOST.

Girls' Dormitory at South Dakota's Industrial School Consumed.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

PLANKINTON (S. D.), Oct. 6.—One of the worst disasters in the history of the State occurred last night at midnight, when seven lives were lost by the burning of the girls' dormitory at the State Industrial School. The dead are:

TILLIE HOOPER, instructor.

MABEL TOBERT, aged 9, of Sioux Falls.

BESSIE MERRY, aged 14, of Hot Springs.

LIDA WARNER, aged 16, of Watertown.

CHRISTINA BERGMAN, aged 11, of Yankton.

NELLIE JOHNSON, aged 13, of Grafton, N. D.

LILLIAN WEST, aged 11, of Sioux Falls.

The burned structure was of wood, three stories in height, and was but recently completed.

The origin of the fire is unknown. The watchman saw the flames bursting from the upper windows, and he was in a building some distance away. There was no fire-fighting apparatus at the school, and the buildings being over a mile from town, no aid could be rendered. In a short time the entire annex was enveloped in flames, and in less than twenty minutes from the time the fire was first seen, the building was destroyed. Nothing whatever was saved. There were about twenty-five persons in the school, who escaped in their nightclothes with the greatest difficulty.

Search for the bodies was commenced as soon as possible, and late this afternoon all had been recovered and will be immediately buried. Each body was burned beyond recognition. The loss on the building is $25,000.

DETROIT CONFIRMATION.

Operahouse and Two Other Large Buildings Quickly Disappear.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

DETROIT (Mich.), Oct. 6.—The clock of Detroit was struck 11:11 o'clock this morning of a conflagration which totally destroyed three large buildings and their contents, damaged several others and threatened the destruction of at least an entire block of the most valuable property in the city.

The blaze originated on the stage of the Detroit Operahouse. Simultaneously with the breaking out of the fire there were several loud explosions, presumably the bursting of gas-lighting apparatus. The flames quickly enveloped the rear of the theater, and made a ruin of the interior. The operahouse, with all its contents, including the handsome scenery, costumes and equipment of the opera company, were destroyed in short order.

The rear of the ten-story building occupied by the H. Leonard Furniture Co. was also destroyed. Nothing of the structure or contents remains but the steel frame.

The four-story building of the Mitchell Table Supply Company, east of the theater, was gutted and partially destroyed, and several other buildings were slightly damaged.

At 2:30 a.m. the fire had been confined practically to the above buildings. The losses have not yet been approximated, but it is believed they will reach in the vicinity of $250,000.

All the new scenery and costumes of the Julia Arthur company, which was playing the first week's production of "A Lady of Quality," was destroyed. Manager Lewis of the company says its loss is $20,000, insured half, and that the stage settings will be difficult to reproduce.

DIG FIRE AT THE UNION STOCK YARDS IN CHICAGO.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 6.—Fanned by a strong wind from the west, a fire broke out in the Dexter Park Pavilion at the Union Stock Yards this afternoon, spread to the district between Union avenue and Halstead street and Forty-third and Forty-fourth, demolishing business houses and residences alike, all of them frame structures, furnished ready material for the fire. The fire broke out from 3 o'clock until 5 o'clock and then yielded to the vigorous work of the fire department. A number of persons were injured during the fight with the flames, and one man, according to an employee of the stock yards, was burned to death. The list of injured:

PATRICK CASEY, employe of the stock yards.

P. F. SHEARN, broken leg.

HENRY WALSH, employe of stock yards, slightly burned.

WILLIAM DONAHUE, fireman, injured by falling timber; will recover.

The up just as the fire broke out, a huge dome. It was only a short distance from the pavilion, and had it not been for the fire, the dome would have been the greater part of the stock yards.

Patrick Casey, an employe of the stock yards, discovered the fire, and, after calling in the alarm, ran to the Dexter Park Pavilion, consisting of eight barns, $50,000; feed in barns, $60,000; freight cars belonging to the Union Stock Yards and Chicago and North Western, and the Chicago and Alton roads, $10,000.

Twenty-eight residences and stores were damaged by the flames, the loss in each being very small.

During the progress of the fire, the wildest excitement prevailed in its vicinity. People dragged their belongings out upon the sidewalks and began to flee, and many of the horses, rows and anything else that could be utilized to carry them away.

The body of the unknown man who was supposed to have been burned to death, was found in the ruins of the building.

Rachel Cohn, a young child, is supposed to have been burned to death. She was left alone in her home, and could not be found afterward.

BRITAIN DECLINES.

Thinks Russia and Japan Have no Interests in Seas.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

LONDON, Oct. 6.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The officials of the British Foreign Office have communicated to the United States ambassador Hay the final decision that Great Britain must refuse to participate in any conference with the representatives of Russia and Japan. The British government, however, asserts its willingness to confer with the United States alone.

Hay insists that Russia and Japan are not interested in Bering Sea seals to a degree entitling them to representation at the conference.

Hon. John W. Foster makes public the names of the following delegates, to be named by the Russian government at the conference: Councillor Martens of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs and professor of international law in the University of St. Petersburg; Court Councillor P. Bokline of the Russian diplomatic corps, formerly attached to the legation of that country at Washington, and Councillor of State Brehtsky, Governor of the commandery at Sea Islands.

SPARRING FOR WIND.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 6.—A special to the Tribune from Washington D. C., says sudden reluctance of the British government to carry into effect the virtual promise of Lord Salisbury to enter into a fishing treaty with the United States, has led to the return of the experts, Messrs. d'Arcy, Thompson and Macoun, from their investigation of the conditions of the Bering Sea.

It is said that the indisputable facts which confronted them on the seal islands were so overwhelmingly contradictory of the theories and assertions regarding the herd that it became necessary, in the language of contests for another class, to "spar for wind."

Notwithstanding this, officials at Washington believe the conference will be held, beginning in the latter part of the July. Arthur, the British minister, will be represented as she has agreed to be.

WASHINGTON MUM.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—Inquiry at the State Department today was made as to the British Foreign Office that the British government has refused to take part in any conference in which the Russian and Japanese delegates are participating. Beyond this confirmation the officials of the department decline to discuss the question as to further progress on the subject.

John W. Foster, ex-Secretary of State, who is in charge of the interests of the United States in the Bering Sea seal-fishing matter, was asked about the statement that there would be two conferences, one between the United States and Great Britain and the other between the United States, Russia and Japan, and he declined to discuss this point at the present time.

LAST BALL GAME.

Shower Cuts It Short with Boston.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

BOSTON, Oct. 6.—The last ball game of the season, and the third in the Temple Cup series, was as dull and uninteresting a contest as has been seen here for many a day. The Baltimore team with ridiculous ease, and closed the engagement by practically exhausting the pitching talent of the Boston nine.

In the three games, all four of the new Champions' crack twirlers have taken their turn in receiving the severest kind of pounding, and for the third successive game the home team were obliged to make a change before the game was over. A slight shower, however, came up just as the Boston were ending their half and the game was called, the score reverting to the seventh and cutting off four runs and five hits for the visitors. VIRTUALLY A REINSTATEMENT

THE BUDD-PHELAX BOARD OF SUPERVISORS ILLEGAL.

Murderer Ebanks Obtains a Reprieve—Warden's Stay of Execution Extended—Capitalist Bradbury Convicted.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 6.—Late this afternoon the Supreme Court rendered its decision in the tax-levy case. This involved the question as to which of the levies respectively adopted by the members of the ousted Board of Supervisors and the new board, jointly appointed by Gov. Budd and Mayor Pheasant, should be accepted by the Auditor. It was ordered that the writ of mandate applied for by Supervisor Morton to compel the Auditor to recognize that adopted by the ousted board be granted.

This decision is generally accepted as paramount to the reinstatement of the old Board of Supervisors, ending its appeal from the decision of Judge Wallace ousting its members from office for malfeasance, in having failed to fix the water rates within the time specified by law.

The decision was written by Henshaw and signed by all the justices except Garoutte, who filed a separate concurring opinion, making the court unanimous on the main issue, differing only in the manner of expressing its views.

CONTRABAND LIQUORS.

Seizure Made by Revenue Officers at San Francisco.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 6.—A seizure of liquors and bitters has been made by revenue officers in the rectifying department of E. G. Lyons & Co.'s wine and liquor warehouse, which means on its face the abatement of the custom by which domestic liquors and bitters are placed on the market under foreign names and trademarks.

The liquors seized were labeled "Curacao, Amsterdam," and "Pousse Café, Bordeaux," in addition to E. G. Lyons & Co.'s regular trademark. The bitters figured as "Orange Bitters, London, Eng." It was the use of the names of foreign cities which placed the goods in the contraband list. It is said that the liquors were all manufactured in San Francisco.

HIS SALARY CUT.

Storekeeper Sinnott Had to Divide with Collector Welburn.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 6.—The principal witness for the prosecution today in the case against O. M. Welburn, the deposed Collector of Internal Revenue, charged with embezzlement, was Thomas P. Sinnott, a storekeeper appointed by the defendant. He stated that at the time of his appointment Welburn gave him the choice of two positions, and told him that he should have to reserve a part of the salaries of himself and another employee to pay that of a third.

Instead, therefore, of receiving $100 a month, he received $85. He signed vouchers for the full amount each month, however.

MILLIONAIRE CONVICTED.

Capitalist Bradbury Kicked a Piano-tuner Down Stairs.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 6.—W. E. Bradbury, the capitalist, was today convicted of battery by a jury in Judge Conlan's court, and ordered to appear for sentence tomorrow.

The complaining witness was Paul E. Durney, a piano-tuner, who testified that on September 1 he called on Mrs. Irwin, who keeps the Bradbury Hotel at Folk and California streets. He wanted to speak about tuning her piano, but Millionaire Bradbury met him in the hall and kicked him downstairs. Bradbury was recently arrested and fined for extorting in a street car.

George Gibson reported on the work done by the Publication Society during the year. The treasurer stated that the receipts for the past year were $547, and the disbursements $550. This leaves a small balance in the treasury.

Rev. C. M. Hill read the report on foreign missions, which was followed by addresses by Rev. James Buchanan and Rev. Fong Kit Hing, pastor of the local Chinese Baptist Church. The latter accused white men of teaching many vices to the Chinese.

REPRIEVE FOR EBANKS.

Application Will Go to the United States Supreme Court.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 6.—J. J. Ebanks, the murderer under sentence of death at San Quentin, may not hang on Friday after all. Ebanks was recently reinstated to be hanged by Judge Torrance of San Diego county after the Supreme Court had affirmed the decision of the lower court from which Ebanks had appealed. His attorney, however, claims that the law requires that the death penalty shall not be enforced earlier than sixty days after the passing of sentence, whereas Judge Torrance set a date allowing the defendant eight days only in which to prepare for death, after being reinstated.

The matter was presented to the Supreme Court today upon an application for a writ of review, which was denied by Chief Justice Beatty this afternoon; and an appeal will be taken to the United States Supreme Court from the order denying the application.

SHIPPING FRUIT ABROAD.

California Dealers Report a Greatly Improved Market.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 6.—Secretary Fitch of the State Board of Trade has received letters from many handlers of California dried fruits, indicating a decided improvement in shipments to Europe. Orders from Germany are reported to be three times as large as last year, with promise of a continuous demand. Great Britain's purchases are also far in excess of last year.

From San José comes the information that while only seventy-six carloads were shipped to the Old World direct in 1896, it is estimated that at least 200 cars of dried fruit and from 100 to 150 cars of canned fruit will be sent from the Santa Clara Valley to Europe this year.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 6.—At the convention of the California Miners' Association, which will meet October 18 in this city, several important matters will be discussed. One is the revision of the Federal mining laws, and another the appointment of a Secretary of Mines and Mining in the Federal Cabinet.

The subject of the Federal and State appropriations, which amount to $500,000 for the digging of the rivers and the erection of an impounding dam, so that hydraulic mining may be pursued, will also be discussed, and it is expected that a resolution will be requested. It is hoped that the convention will result in a more thorough organization of the miners of the State.

NOTES FROM ST. MICHAELS.

Boats Will not Get Up the River Hereafter.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] ST. MICHAELS, Sept. 16.—The general impression is that the boats that leave here from this time on will not be able to get over 1000 miles up the Yukon River. The boats will be frozen in. All independent steamers will be compelled to carry coal, as the natives have cut up all the driftwood along the river bank for over one hundred miles, and have sold it to the steamers owned by the two big companies. The new finds on Minook Creek and Hunter Creek continue to cause excitement, and there are now about six hundred miners on the ground.

In St. Michaels, sugar is 25 cents a pound; shot shells are 25 cents each; bacon is 35 cents a pound; blanket trousers, $3 a pair; chocolate bars, 3 for 25 cents; 5-cent calves, 25 cents a yard; cotton bandanas, $1 each; flour, $8 a hundredweight; candles, 35 cents a piece; small box of sardines, 20 cents.

Six men have probably lost their lives near here as the result of a food-harpy attempt to sail up the 180 miles of river, which, some places, run down at the rate of eight miles an hour. The men, two of whom are named Abercrombie and Tate, were last seen drifting out of the mouth of the Yukon to sea in distress.

FEARFUL OF A RIOT.

PORT TOWNSEND (Wash.) Oct. 6.

A private letter received today from St. Michaels via the cutter Perry from Dutch Harbor, explains the sensational story published some time ago about an Alaska treasure-ship requiring protection by revenue cutters against the possibility of piratical attack. It not to guard against pirates that the vessels are needed.

Ever since the movement toward Klondyke began, steamers from the seas have been dumping all sorts and kinds of men at St. Michaels. The gathering has been getting worse from month to month, and as a result, the Rush and Corwin are now at St. Michaels ready to land men at a moment's notice, and put a stop to any trouble which might, considering the fierceness of the miners, quickly spread into a riot. The cutters will remain at St. Michaels until all possibility of trouble has passed.

MAJ. BALDWIN'S TRIP.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

DULUTH (Minn.), Oct. 6.—Maj. M. R. Baldwin, the ex-Minnesota Congressman, will leave here this week for Alaska. His intention is to visit different points along the coast during the winter, where it likely that a city will be built, and next spring make a trip up the Yukon and into the Klondyke district.

He will prospect on the Coral Islands for quartz leads, and if he finds it practicable, will go to Copper River, where some discoveries have been made recently that are said to rival those of the Klondyke. Mr. Baldwin said that, if he is convinced that the Copper River would be speedily built on the Alaskan coast.

FOR COPPER RIVER.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 6.—The steam schooner Alice Blanchard was chartered to carry a party of prospectors from San Diego to the Copper River gold fields. The vessel is expected to leave San Diego in about two weeks, and will next Saturday sail from this port on the schooner W. S. Phelps, which is now taking on board a year's supply of provisions.

Mexican Lime Trade Dying.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 6.—The Mexican lime trade in this city, which until three years ago was a very profitable business, is likely to be wiped out of existence shortly, owing to the increased demand for California lemons. Trade has received letters from many handlers of California dried fruits, indicating a decided improvement in shipments to Europe. The Times

ALL ALONG THE LINE.

Postal receipts are a pretty good augur of increase or decrease of population in a town, and it is significant of the growing popularity of Long Beach as a summer resort that the receipts for box rents and postage stamps show an increase of $136.52 for the summer quarter of this year as against that of last, while the postal returns from Santa Monica show an increase of only $11.11 for this year in the comparison for the same length of time.

A communication has been received by The Times making earnest protest against the careless manner in which horses are commonly shod. In many instances farriers are ignorant and unskilled in their trade, and in consequence horses are frequently shod in such a manner that they suffer pain, and often incur diseases of the foot. The suggestion is made that farriers should be compelled to pass a suitable examination before being allowed to practice their trade. Humanity dictates that some measure should be taken to prevent the infliction of the needless suffering among horses which is now such a common occurrence.

The examination of Crandall, the alleged murderer, which took place at Santa Monica yesterday, was marked by an occurrence which has some extraordinary aspects. A woman whose previous relations with Crandall have been common talk, was regarded as a witness who might prove dangerous to the defense. The law provides that a wife cannot testify against her husband, and the plan was therefore devised that Crandall should marry this woman in order to silence her voice on the trial. A license was accordingly obtained, but the watchfulness of the Sheriff's deputies prevented the consummation of the plot until yesterday. Just as the prisoner's examination was concluded before Justice Guidinger, Justice Wells came into the courtroom and before any but the participants realized what was going on, he had united in unholy wedlock the prisoner and his mistress. It would be disingenuous to the intelligence of Justice Wells to suppose that he was not fully aware of the purpose of the ceremony which he performed. He, therefore, presents the remarkable spectacle of a sworn officer of justice taking part in a deliberate attempt to suppress testimony which, if given, might result in the conviction of a murderer.

AL BORAK.

Temple No. 75, B.O.R.A.K., instituted with appropriate ceremonies.

Perhaps no larger number of prominent members of the Knights of Pythias was ever assembled in Southern California than that which met at Pythian Castle Hall, North Spring street, last night upon the occasion of the institution of Al Borak Temple, No. 75, Dramatic Order Knights of Khorasan, nearly every city south of the Tehachas being represented. The charter list contained 220 names, the number from each place being as follows: Los Angeles, 110; Pasadena, 21; San Bernardino, 8; Santa Monica, 12; Needles, 4; Riverside, 10; Pomona, 12; Tehachapi, 1; Santa Ana, 2; San Pedro, 4; Alhambra, 11; Redlands, 10; Phoenix, 1; Ariz., 1; Corona, 1; Comrade, 1; Fortis, 1; Colton, 5; by card, 6.

The ceremony of institution was performed by Imperial Nawah W. H. Rader, assisted by St. Charles, Imperial Nawah of Zerin Kapi Temple of San Francisco, and a corps of officers. The officers of the new temple are as follows: Oscar Lawler, Venerable Ruler; A. L. Smith, Royal Visitor; F. McComas, Grand Emir; Capen Ellis, Mahdi; John S. Myers, Secretary; J. J. Vanden, J. J. Treasurer; J. G. Hawley, Monitor; J. S. Drake, Menial.

The exemplification of the work was a veritable revelation to all but the participants, and partakes of the nature of an Oriental drama. The costumes worn by the twenty-eight participants are perhaps the most gorgeous of any order of the world, the city, being fashioned after the manner of those rich robes which made the pilgrimage of Laila Rookh from Delhi a wonder to the beholders as described in Moore's "Trophies of Khorasan."

At the conclusion of the ceremonies the assembling repaid to the Royal Bakery restaurant, where amid the music of Arend's Orchestra, a sumptuous banquet was discussed, after an invocation by St. Charles, Imperial Nawah of Santa Monica. Incidental to the banquet an address of welcome was delivered by Mayor M. P. Snyder, which was responded to by Judge J. G. Houston of Pasadena. With Leslie B. Hewitt as toastmaster, a number of toasts were responded to.

On the subject of "Al Borak Temple," W. H. Rader, I. N., congratulated the assembly upon the successful instituting of the temple, which was the second in the State, and wished for its ultimate growth, success and usefulness.

Oscar Lawler, in "The Desert of Khorasan," gave a much researched and scholarly address. "Pythianism," being a hobby of D. E. Trank, he did the subject full justice, not unmixed with much good counsel.

A genuine treat was the greeting by H. Schaeffer from Zerin Kapi Temple of San Francisco.

BEER BOYCOTT.

MAIER AND ZOBELIN'S MEN WILL NOT JOIN THE UNION.

Los Angeles Council of Labor Split with Discussion in a Three-cornered Fight—Joe Walters' Assailed Manifesto.

Two or three weeks ago a sailor's labor union in San Diego resolved that "no rent as is a gent would get drunk on Maier & Zobel's beer," and that started the bawl of Joe Walters, the grand panjandrum of Pacific Coast Lodge, No. 7, of the National Union of the United Brewers' Workmen, located at San Francisco. Joe may truly be the Naughty Unicorn of the United Bowl Wrastlers, but as a literary cuss he is a damp, dark, dismal failure of the most profound dye. Joe's manifesto smacks of Herr Most's most musty mumbblings, and sounds as if it were the hand of Specs in the blood of Parsons.

He says, in trying to get Maier & Zobel to let him run their business considerable sums of money. Energy and Time were wasted. "Considerable sums of Time," Joe, is good.

They also ignored his messengers and those of the Los Angeles Labor Council in a "similar like manner."

"Similar like" is piling it on pretty thick, Joe, but every thing goes where the beer flows, Joe, you know.

Then Joe hits 'em a whaling lick back on the cookhouse. "Now friends," he says, in a painful appeal to organized labor, the public in general and the rest of mankind, "you've permitted a corporation to build up an enterprise through the assistance and patronage of working people, members and friends of organizations, recognizing it as a home-product manufacturing establishment, to treat us like dogs? Do you not consider that Chinese production, manufacture in our homes, are superior to the scab production, such as Maier & Zobel's Beer is? Then, Friends, let us withdraw our patronage from these places, where Maier & Zobel's Beer is sold, and show these purse-proud beer barons that we are the producers of all their wealth."

Joe goes a large way around to tell us we workmen make the beer and then we drink it, but don't he get there when he does light, though? There's just one thing wrong about his statement. If he means by his talk on the production of Chinese manufactured in our homes, that there's any Mongolian babies in our house, he's blink, blink, blink, blink, an' he don't denie it.

Joe sent his valentine to San Diego and also to here, and Maier, Taylor, Fish and two cigar-makers of the Council of Labor went to the brewery a week or so ago, and advised the men to organize a union. Then the workmen of the brewery decided to call a meeting Tuesday night, and vote about it. The vote was unanimous that they didn't want any union for the reason that three of their number had tried it, and had all they wanted of it for all eternity. Then, too, they all got union time, and none of them got laid off, and most of them more, than union wages. Besides this, nearly every man of them is a stockholder in the enterprise, employer and employee are on the same footing, and why should they each pay $10 initiation fee, 50 cents a month dues, any assessments the Naughty Unicorn of the United Bowl Wrastlers, chooses to assess, and the Lord knows how much more to support the annual spring crop of striking union malcontents and over the earth when Maier, McLean and Taylor were on hand to answer with a lot of truck and implied threats and things, but echo drowned them out in thunder tones and echo answered, why? Culver, the editor of the Labor World, agreed with Echo, so now the printers' union threaten to boycott Culver if he don't say he didn't say it, and if the Council of Labor here resolved that during and while there is other beer here, they will boycott the brewery, they will boycott him too, anyhow.

The Council of Labor were to take up the matter last night, but from the fact that the account of their doings has not yet reached The Times it is presumed that they decided to settle the Maier & Zobel's Beer question the same old way—by drinking it all hiccup.

LETTERS TO THE TIMES.

A Fearful and Wonderful Arrangement of the Police Commission.

LOS ANGELES (Cal.) Oct. 6, 1897.—(To the Editor of The Times.) In reference to the resolution passed upon at the instigation of the present, but fortunately, not always will be, Mayor of this city, as to the limitation of two hundred proprietors of retail liquor, cigar and restaurant establishments, knowing that merchandise of this nature has been, and will be sold, even under the most adverse and restrictive rules of any Police Commission, I beg to challenge any Mayor or Police Commissioner, as to its policy he or they may pursue in the future, for the simple reason that it appears absurd and detrimentally acting to any right thinking and acting official who now, or later may be, entrusted with the enacting of rules of this nature, in upholding such a poor argument as to restrict "now and forever" the community of this ever-growing city.

In view of the election in regard to the bonds of whatever nature they may be, which nevertheless are for the good of the present generation, I consider it my, as well as everybody's duty, to remind the present Police Commissioners to reconsider the resolution passed by the present Mayor, and officers of said commission, who are not supposed to antagonize the will of the people.

Not fearing any criticism, I beg to subscribe myself a taxpayer.

THE CRANDALL DAMAGE SUIT.

MRS. CRANDALL, THE FIRST, RESUMES HER TESTIMONY.

Threatened to Shoot Her Former Husband if He Refused to Accompany Her—Worked in a Factory.

The meeting of the Fire Commissioners yesterday resulted in the discharge of two firemen, against whom serious charges were preferred by the chief. A callman was suspended pending investigation into charges of neglect of duty.

News has been received of a generous bequest to the Orphans' homes of the State. Two institutions in this city will be among the beneficiaries.

The $50,000 damage suit brought by Mary R. Crandall against Clara M. Thomson Crandall, wife of her former husband, for alienation of affections, was resumed in Judge Van Dyke's court yesterday, the complaining witness occupying the witness stand throughout the day under cross examination. Mrs. Crandall related her story of the relations between her husband and herself in her characteristically-dramatic manner. There were many details which were not brought out on direct examination, some of which were very interesting.

[AT THE CITY HALL.]

TWO FIREMEN FIRED.

SERIOUS CHARGES PREFERRED AGAINST THEM BY THE CHIEF.

The Barley and Bran Contract the Theme of a Heated Discussion. Generous Bequest to Orphans' Homes—Want Precinct Lines Changed.

The meeting of the Fire Commissioners yesterday morning resulted in the summary discharge of two callmen, who were charged by Chief Moore with neglect of duty and other offenses. Both men were heard in self-defense, but they were unable to satisfy the board of their innocence. It was intimated before the meeting that there might be some discussion of the recommendations made at Saturday's special meeting concerning the fire-house contract, but the topic was not broached.

The two delinquent callmen were Harry Heath and John Noonan of company No. 8. Chief Moore reported that they had been guilty of neglect of duty, insubordination and disrespect to their superior officers. The chief also stated that the men had absented themselves from the engine-house, and that they had failed to respond to an alarm of fire.

Neath made a plea in his own behalf, saying that he was in a barber shop when the truck bell rang, but he paid no attention to it, not knowing that the bell was for the firehouse. He said that he had not spoken of them or to them any longer since the meeting. This ingenious excuse did not make much impression on the commissioners, especially as Chief Moore added his previous charges of neglect of duty and other offenses.

Noonan said that he overslept on Friday, and when the alarm sounded he had so much trouble in getting into his boots that the engine left before he was ready. This ingenious excuse did not make much impression on the commissioners, especially as Chief Moore added his previous charges of neglect of duty and other offenses.

Further corroboration of the charges was received from Capt. Lannon of Engine Company No. 8. He said that both men were drunk when they were in question, and that they were frequently disrespectful to their officers. Further testimony to the same effect was received.

By unanimous vote, the commissioners dropped the names of both men from the roll.

Callman Richard of Engine Company No. 4 was also on the carpet, being charged with repeated absence from roll call when fire alarms were given. Pending investigation, Noonan was suspended.

W. H. Joyce, who has held the contract for supplying the fire department with barley and bran, was charged with a very serious violation of contract. He declared that the department had failed to live up to its contract, and he had suffered a loss of profits which he estimated at $48.

Joyce was highly exercised over his supposed wrong, and he refused to consider the explanation of the chief. He demanded investigation, and made many insinuations of favoritism and improper conduct. From his own statements, however, and from his contract it appeared that there had been no breach of the agreement by the officials of the department.

Chief Moore reported that the house hitherto occupied by chemical No. 1, on the Plaza had been vacated, by reason of the recent connection with Engine Company No. 2.

The resignations of L. W. George and Ad. Guenther were accepted. The latter has been with the fire department for eleven years, and the board expressed regret that he had resigned.

which amounts in money to $54,218.66.

Mr. Ross, in his letter, asks: "Have you in your city or county asylums or homes for orphans, Protestant, Catholic, Jewish, fraternal or the like, which might be included within the provisions of said paragraph fourth?"

If so, will you kindly give me the name of each, with the names of the president, secretary, superintendent, or manager of the same, with location and postoffice address? If there is none in your city or county, to your knowledge, will you please so state?"

The only institutions in the county which come within the language of the statute are the Los Angeles Orphan Asylum and School of the Sisters of Charity, a Catholic institution, at the corner of Boyle and Stephenson avenues, and the Los Angeles Orphan Home, at No. 809 Yale street, a Protestant institution. As yet it is impossible to say how much will be received by each home, as the total number of similar institutions in the State is not known.

WANT BOUNDARIES CHANGED.

Petition from Residents of the Sixty-fifth Precinct.

A petition was filed yesterday with the City Clerk, signed by a number of residents of that part of the Sixty-fifth Precinct in the Ninth Ward, bounded by Mission road and Alhambra avenue on the north and west, Wood street on the south and Soto street on the east. The petitioners ask that the boundaries of the precinct be so changed as to exclude this district, and that the boundaries of the Sixth Precinct in the First Ward be so changed as to include it. In support of their request the petitioners allege that the polling place of the Sixty-fifth Precinct is so remote and so inaccessible, by reason of intervening ravines, gullies and hills, that they are subjected to great inconvenience upon election days. The polling place of the Sixth Precinct is easily accessible and within a short distance.

Filed with the City Clerk.

Property-owners on Alameda street have filed a petition asking the County Clerk to remedy the "terrible condition of the pavement between Aliso and Requena streets." It is said to be not only dangerous to life and limb, but it is a nuisance, by reason of the accumulation of pools of stagnant water.

A protest was filed yesterday against the opening of Hoover street from Washington to Bush street.

Fourteenth-street Improvements.

The commissioners for changing the grade on East Fourteenth street and appraising consequent damages, will meet Friday at 2:30 p.m. in the Mayor's office. All property-owners interested are notified to be present.

CRANDALL'S AFFECTIONS.

MRS. CRANDALL, THE FIRST, RESUMES HER STORY.

She Implored Him to Ignore Mrs. Thomson's Attention Without Recourse—Worked in a Factory for Thirty Cents a Day.

The trial of the Crandall-Thomson damage suit was resumed here Judge Van Dyke yesterday forenoon. Mrs. Crandall, the plaintiff, being on the witness stand throughout the day.

Under cross-examination she related the story of her life, her marriage to E. E. Crandall, now of this city, and how, several years later the defendant, Clara M. Thomson, became acquainted with him and won her husband from her.

The witness testified that her husband induced her to go back to Cincinnati, where relatives resided, hoping that her health, which had been very poor for some time, might be improved. This was after Mr. Crandall and Mrs. Thomson had become acquainted, and Mrs. Crandall had accepted a promise that he would pay no further attention to her. Mrs. Crandall, in addition to this, witness said, promised to send her money regularly during her absence, with which to meet her expenses.

"But I waited in expectation in vain," witness continued. "I wrote to Mr. Crandall several times, but he never replied. Finally, my money being gone, I was compelled to seek employment. I obtained a position in a factory, where I received thirty cents a day for five cents a pair. The best I could do was to finish six pairs in a day, and I was obliged to make paltry earnings cover my living expenses. I lived in a small room, and was occasionally furnished food by my landlady. After living in that place several weeks, I determined to return to California and to reclaim my husband. I was satisfied that the Thomson woman had again got him under her influence. Friends procured for me a cheap ticket, and I came to Los Angeles, where I learned that Mr. Crandall was residing at Santa Monica. I disguised myself as well as I could, and went to Santa Monica, where I found Mr. Crandall and Mrs. Thomson living together. I saw them together many times but did not speak to my husband till I could see him alone. After I had been there about a week without being able to see him alone, I came to Los Angeles where he was engaged in business, determined to see him here and plead with him to return to me. I was obliged to return to Santa Monica without success. He was on the same train, and after we reached our destination, I saw my opportunity to see him.

"Mr. Crandall was on his way to the cottage where Mrs. Thomson and he resided. As I came up to him I called out, 'Eddie, Eddie,' and at the same time thrusting aside my veil. 'Mamie!' he exclaimed, almost staggering from astonishment.

"Yes, Mamie, your wife," was the reply.

Mrs. Crandall described the meeting in a most dramatic manner. She related her story of the plea she made with her husband to go with her, and how he ignored her entreaties.

"He urged me to go with him to the house where he and Mrs. Thomson were living," Mrs. Crandall resumed. "but I declined to do so. I insisted upon his accompanying me, and while we were talking an agreement was made that he should accompany me to a buggy and my husband went out to speak to him. I expected that Mr. Crandall would attempt to get into the buggy and leave me, and I feared him that if he tried to run away from me I would shoot him on the spot."

"We then returned to Los Angeles, and I was obliged to return to him and give up the Thomson woman, but Mr. Crandall told me he was in love with her; that he could not resist her influence, and would not desert her."

"I then saw that there was no hope of again entering into my husband's affections, and an agreement was made whereby a settlement of our property matters was to be had."

Mrs. Crandall went into the agreement in detail, she was to receive $100 per month for five years, and several thousand dollars additional at stated intervals during that period, as her share of the community property. But Mr. Crandall, witness said, had wholly failed to live up to the agreement.

Mrs. Crandall was a most interesting and obedient wife according to her own statement on the stand. In 1881, she says, she went to Honolulu upon the solicitation of her husband. She objected, but Mr. Crandall urged that her health would, without doubt, be greatly benefited by the trip, and so she went. She testified that her husband recommended the trip upon the suggestion of Mrs. Thomson, who, he said, was much concerned about her condition of health.

A. M. Stephens, associate counsel for the defendant, sprang a small sensation by asking the witness, upon cross-examination, she had been upon terms of more than ordinary acquaintance with one Harry D. Lewis during her sojourn in Honolulu. Mrs. Crandall admitted that she had met the gentleman in question, and that she had gone riding with him upon several occasions, but that was all.

The greater part of the day was spent in the introduction of letters written by Mrs. Crandall to her husband while in the East and in Honolulu. Mrs. Crandall seems to have neglected "My dear husband," and other endearing terms in the introduction to many of her letters, but invariably subscribed herself "As yet your wife, Mamie."

The attorneys for the defendant attempted yesterday, with partial success, to show that at the time Mrs. Crandall was working in the factory at Cincinnati for 30 cents a day she was residing with her sister and brother, who were well-to-do, and that the plaintiff had considerable property at Long Beach and Los Angeles.

The plaintiff was married to Mr. Crandall at San Antonio, Tex., in 1881, being propped up on her sick bed during the performance of the ceremony. The trial will be resumed today.

LONG BEACH INCORPORATION.

Election Will Be Called for Some Date in November.

The Long Beach Incorporation matter came up before the Board of Supervisors yesterday for final action on the question of calling a special election to determine whether or not the place should again be incorporated as a city of the sixth class.

The matter came up for argument about two weeks ago, residents of Alamitos having filed an objection to the Alamitos townsite being included within the limits of the proposed corporation. The matter was so strongly contested that the board determined to view the territory involved before ordering an election, and become satisfied as to the merits of the opposition. In its action yesterday the board decided to call an election on or about November 20, making a few changes in the boundary lines of no material importance. The lines as now established, however, vary considerably from those laid out in the bounds of the former corporation, as nearly all of the farming lands lying on the outskirts of Alamitos have been excluded.

The board passed an order appointing Agnes Benbrook matron of the indigent women's department at the county farm, at a salary of $35 per month, her services to commence November 1.

The bid of F. C. Hannon for work on the Wilmington and San Pedro road was accepted.

RECEIVER APPOINTED.

A Butcher Firm Involved in Serious Dispute.

S. A. Dickman filed a suit yesterday asking that a receiver be appointed to take charge of a butcher shop at No. 466 South Spring street, in which he claims a third interest with William and James Mosher as equal partners. Shortly after the complaint was filed the plaintiff's attorney appeared before Judge Van Dyke and succeeded in having Charles Kreider appointed as receiver, and to enter into possession of the property at once.

Dickman alleges that in April of this year he and the two defendants entered into partnership. James Mosher conducted the outside business of the firm, peddled meat with a wagon and made collections. The plaintiff stated in his complaint that Mosher declined to submit an accounting of money collected, and further charges him with having diverted large sums to his own use. William Mosher, the senior partner and father of James, is also charged with having diverted funds of the firm to his private use. Dickman states that Mosher has endeavored to obtain possession of the business and threatened to "freeze him out" unless he consented to his terms. Dickman seeks to have the partnership dissolved and an accounting.

WATER COMPANY SUE.

A Pipe Line Near Burbank Alleged not to Have Been Paid For.

The J. D. Hooker Company has brought suit against the West Los Angeles Water Company for the recovery of $500 alleged to be due for materials furnished on a pipe line recently constructed near Burbank. The General Construction Company of this city, it is asserted, entered into a contract with the West Los Angeles Water Company to furnish the necessary materials, which were purchased from the plaintiff. The amount of the purchase price was $19,200, but only $2650 was paid. The complaint set forth that the water company had agreed to pay $107,582 to the constructionists within six months after the completion of the work, but that only a small portion of the money had been paid, thereby disabling the General Construction Company in meeting its obligation with the plaintiff.

THE DECREE MODIFIED.

T. A. Porter Allowed the Custody of His Child.

Judge Allen yesterday modified the decree of divorce granted Mrs. F. E. Porter from her husband, T. A. Porter, granting the latter custody of a minor child which was originally awarded to the mother. Although Mr. Porter was to have custody of the child under the provisions of the decree of divorce, the father has kept him in his possession.

Mrs. Porter consented to the modification, and the court ordered the custody of the child to be awarded to the father.

PILOTMAN AND JETMAN.

Miscellaneous Briefed Thru.

Indictment returned against FIVE YEARS. Pierre Etchemendy was sentenced to San Quentin for five years yesterday by Judge Smith. Etchemendy was found guilty by a jury of having stolen a certificate of deposit for $100 from a fellow-countyman with whom he was rooming, and attempting to cash it at the Manhattan Savings Bank in this city. His attorneys moved for a new trial, but the motion was denied.

NEW TRIAL DENIED. The appeal of J. de Laveaux from the verdict of a jury in Police Judge Owens' court was dismissed by Judge Smith yesterday. De Laveaux was arrested on a charge of drunkenness some time ago, was found guilty and sentenced to fifty days in jail. The appeal was taken on the ground that the jury was not properly sworn, but the court ruled that inasmuch as the defendant's counsel had exercised the right to challenge the jury, they had waived all right of objection to the verdict.

DIVORCED. Judge Smith granted a decree of divorce to Mrs. Alice A. White from her husband, Charles E. White, yesterday on the ground of desertion.

LETTERS GRANTED. In the matter of the estate of William Lacy, Sr., Judge Clark yesterday granted letters of administration to the widow, Mr. Lacy had executed a will in 1888 leaving all his property to a former wife from whom he was divorced. Subsequently he married the petitioner, but made no provision for her in his will. The first wife applied for the admission of the will to probate, but the motion was denied, upon objections filed by the widow, who contested the validity of the will. Bonds were fixed at $45,000.

SUIT FOR DAMAGES.

Mary M. Atkins Sues the Los Angeles Railway Company.

The Los Angeles Railway Company has been sued by Mrs. Mary M. Atkins and husband, L. P. Atkins, for $4600 damages for injuries alleged to have been sustained by the former July 29 last, while on board one of the company's cars.

Mrs. Atkins states that the car on which she was a passenger ran off the track and collided with the curb at the corner of Fourth and Wall streets. She was thrown into the street and seriously injured.

It is alleged in the complaint that the track at the point where the accident occurred was in bad condition, and that the car was being run at a very high rate of speed.

THE RAND MINES.

NEW COMPLICATION RISES IN THE LITIGATION.

Frederic Moores Files a Complaint in Intervention to Recover His Interest and Heavy Damages. Unique Business Methods of Mrs. Moores.

A complaint in intervention filed yesterday in the Randsburg mines suit new pending in the Federal court, holds a revelation of the odd business methods of at least one woman, for it tells the story of a mining interest jugged about until the original owner has been obliged to call in judicial aid to find out where he stands, and what he owns.

The intervention is made in the already well-known suit of the Rand Mountain Mining Company vs. the Sunlight Gold Mining Company, Rose L. Burcham, C. A. Burcham, John Singleton, Patrick Reddy, J. C. Campbell and W. H. Metson. The intervenor is Frederic M. Moores, one of the original discoverers of the famous group of Rand mines, who now seeks to recover his interest in the property.

By the first count in the complaint, Moores sues Reddy, Campbell and Metson for a reconveyance of his share in the mine. In 1885, Reddy, Campbell and Metson, for legal services rendered in clearing up the title to the property, received a deed to one-fourth interest in the mines, on condition that they performed their part in a contract which was then entered into, by which the intervenor, Frederic M. Moores, was to convey to them his share in the mine. In 1885, Reddy, Campbell and Metson, for legal services rendered in clearing up the title to the property, received a deed to one-fourth interest in the mines, on condition that they performed their part in a contract which was then entered into, by which the intervenor, Frederic M. Moores, was to convey to them his share in the mine.

That lady had left the shelter of Moores's roof eighteen long years before the deed was given, and she was now living in New York. Frederic M. Moores made his big strike. He promptly wrote to her, telling her of his rich discovery, and asked her to come to California. She refused, and it is alleged that, in order to be ready for all emergencies, she hurriedly conveyed to herself with a deed conveying to herself Moores's entire interest in the Rand mines. The deed was drawn up before she left New York, and she signed the signature of her unsuspecting husband.

Six months later the deed was signed by Moores, but the complaint alleges that he was more than a little intoxicated at the time. When he regained his sober senses, he refused to acknowledge the conveyance, and Mrs. Moores was ready for him with witnesses to the signature, and a record of the deed in Kern county. Soon afterward, though, Mrs. Moores changed, and made a written statement in which she agreed to give half of the property back to her husband.

This agreement appeared to weigh but lightly on Mrs. Moores's freedom of action in disposing of the property, for it is alleged that her next move was to give Patrick Reddy an option on the whole one-fourth interest in the mines that had originally fallen to Moores's share. The purchase price was to be $45,000, one-half of which was to be paid in cash, and the remainder in March. No payments were made, and in April Mrs. Moores conveyed two-fifths of the one-fourth interest back to her husband, and a one-fifth to his son, receiving in return a deed to one-tenth interest in mines outside the Rand group. This arrangement, it is alleged, she made in May, when the two mining companies were formed: the Rand Mountain Mining Company in Nevada, and the Sunlight Gold Mining Company in Colorado.

Reddy then assigned to the Rand Mountain Mining Company the option offered him by Mrs. Moores, showing a fine disregard of the facts that the property not only had not been purchased, but that it had been subsequently conveyed to her husband and his son. Mrs. Moores evidently shared this cheerful lack of responsibility as to deeds and conveyances, for the complaint alleges that she, on the day after Reddy had assigned his option, made another deed of that unfortunate one-fourth interest in the Rand Mountain Mining Company. At the same time, Reddy assigned to the Sunlight Gold Mining Company the same one-fourth interest in the mines, which had been given him by Mrs. Moores, and the two Burchams, and also the same old option on Moores's interest.

Moores now endeavors to break out of this intricate tangle of deeds and conveyances, and begs the court to settle his title to the two-fifths which he acquired from his wife, and to return to him the one-half of the mines, which has been given him by Mrs. Moores, and the two Burchams, and also the same old option on Moores's interest.

When all other remedies fail to cure the confusion, the intervenor, Frederic M. Moores, sues the defendants for the return of his property.

HELD FOR MURDER.

GRANDALL MUST ANSWER FOR THE KILLING OF BOWMAN.

Prosecution introduces evidence to show that threats had been made by him.

WEDDED IN THE COURTROOM.

PRISONER IS MARRIED AFTER BEING HELD FOR MURDER.

The ceremony performed unobserved by the bystanders—A needless plot to exclude dreaded testimony.

The preliminary examination of Frank DeWitt Grandall, charged with the murder of Jack Bowman at Ballona on September 14, was held yesterday before Justice A. M. Gunder. In Santa Monica, Grandall was held without bail on the charge of murder. Deputy District Attorney W. P. James appeared for the people, and M. W. Conklin and W. H. Shinn represented the defendant. Grandall was taken from the County Jail in charge of Under Sheriff Clements.

The evidence submitted was much the same as that taken at the coroner's inquest. Henry Brennerman of No. 125 San Pedro street, this city, described how on the day of the fatal shooting, he drove down to Ballona with the defendant. They arrived there between 10 and 11 a.m., and Grandall stepped down to the beach and asked Bowman for a pair of suspenders. The latter delivered them, and soon Grandall and Bowman began a quarrel. Bowman laid hands on Grandall and the latter jumped back and commenced firing a pistol at Bowman, who turned and ran. Grandall fired four shots, and Bowman ran only a few steps before he fell, and died a few minutes later.

W. K. Hyman and Joseph Hoagland gave testimony corroborating that of Brennerman. Constable Brakeshuler, who made the arrest, told practically the same story as he told to the coroner's jury. In addition thereto he said that when Bowman had fallen, Grandall remarked that while the first shot must have hit the man in front it was probably one of those in the rear that had done the killing. On cross-examination Brakeshuler testified that after the shooting Grandall said he was not going to "scrap" with him.

Defendant at that time also said he was not going to take the worst of it, for he was an invalid and was to have an operation the next week.

A woman in deepest black, who swore that she was the widow of Bowman, was introduced at the afternoon session as a new witness in the case. Her testimony was to the effect that she saw Grandall on the evening before the shooting in room No. 7 at the Glenhurst, No. 224 South Main street, in this city. She went to his room and demanded certain personal effects in his possession, to which she laid claim. He refused unless she paid him a certain alleged debt. He told her to get out, and struck or pushed her so violently that she fell down three steps. Grandall said to her: "I'll fix you — of a — of a — of a greaser of a man tomorrow." Cross-examined, witness testified that at that time she lived at No. 127 East Third street, and was a sporting woman.

The defendant's attorneys a little later sought to recall the witness, but she had been excused, and efforts to find her were fruitless. Deputy Constable Lloyd, in his testimony, said that Grandall fired one shot at Bowman and that a pause of several seconds ensued after which three more shots were fired in rapid succession.

Dr. J. J. Place, who conducted the autopsy on Bowman's body, testified that one shot had taken effect on the man's breast, the bullet not having entered the cavity beneath, but instead having lodged under the clavicle, but outside the rib. A shot which had taken effect in the back of the neck, the bullet passing through the body forward and downward, had evidently caused death.

Mrs. Annie Burkholder, a woman in valiant suggestive of tinsel, swore that she was in another room of the house at the time of Grandall's alleged brutal treatment of Mrs. Bowman. She heard the dispute between Mrs. Bowman and Grandall, and saw the former pass her door. She did not hear Grandall make any statement nor did she see him throw Mrs. Bowman downstairs. Her location, however, did not command a view of the stairs.

The witness Brennerman, being recalled for the defense, testified that he was in Grandall's room when Mrs. Bowman made the visit there on the night before the shooting. There was a dispute and Mrs. Bowman and Grandall stepped into the hall, which was carpeted, so that footfalls would make little noise. Grandall returned so quickly that he could have had scarcely time to make the alleged threat, or throw the woman down the stairs. Witness did not hear him make the alleged threat.

The defendant's attorneys argued that at the worst he had been guilty of manslaughter.

Prosecuting Attorney James introduced in a bit of weathering oratory, in which he intimated that the defendant be held without bail to answer before the higher court on the original charge of murder. The court so ordered.

THE DEFENDANT MARRIED.
But a few minutes after the court had decided that he must stand trial Grandall was married in that crowded courtroom so quietly that not a half dozen of the people standing all about him suspected what was going on till the ceremony was a thing of the past. A few minutes after the adjournment, reporters, attorneys and spectators were standing in promenade positions discussing the case. Gradually the hum of conversation became louder and louder. In all the bustle no one gave heed to what was in the secret noticed that Justice Wells had entered carrying an important-looking document. Then the defendant's attorney Conklin called aside Under Sheriff Clements, who was in charge of the prisoner, and engaged him in close conversation some twenty feet away.

A young woman with cheeks of the reddish hue that suggests powder, and eyes that seemed rather bold, and hair of a crispy sort, quietly made her way up to where Grandall and Justice Wells were standing. A whispered conversation followed, which, in all the noise, was not observed by the crowd. The names of W. H. Shinn and M. W. Conklin were signed on a paper as witnesses.

It is supposed that in this case we will see the "kissing of the bride," said Mr. Shinn.

Then people began to realize that something had happened. Grandall and the "young man" whom he had been entered on a marriage license as Amanda Frazier, made love-like demonstrations, and the prisoner's custodian saw that a trick had been played. The bride and groom so strangely mated whispered a few words each to the other and she disappeared almost as quietly as she had entered. The plotters had triumphed, or rather they thought they had, over the refusal from the District Attorney's and the Sheriff's office to consent to the marriage taking place at the jail. And, indeed, at first sight it did look as if the defendant had deceived the prosecution of some important evidence in his case.

As his sweetheart, the young woman might be compelled to testify against him, but his wife it would be another proposition.

It was said last night, however, that there was no need of having planned the marriage so ely. It had been learned on the part of the prosecution that the young woman's testimony would be of little value, so the schemers had their trouble for naught.

DEADLY BEER BOTTLE.

Wounded with Probably Fatal Effect by Jose Souvia.

Police Officer Arguello yesterday arrested Jose Souvia for assault with a deadly weapon, to-wit: a beer bottle. The affray took place at Manhattan Junction, outside the city limits, about a week ago. The victim was Ramon Souvia, who had been carousing with two other Mexicans, when Souvia hit him on the head with a beer bottle, inflicting a wound which may prove fatal. Physicians who have been attending Souvia say there is little hope for his recovery. Souvia and the other Mexicans were indicted in the assault. Officer Arguello had obtained a description of the fellows, and was on the lookout for them, when he spotted them yesterday morning hiding in a willow copse at the lower end of Boyle avenue. He captured Souvia, but the latter's companions again made his escape. Souvia will be held without bail until it is determined whether he will recover.

RAILROAD NOTES.

EXCURSIONS COMING FROM NORTH AND EAST.

Arrangements Made to Give the Visitors a Good Time — Orange Shipments to Europe Are Being Looked After.

Two excursions left San Francisco last night, bound for this city, bringing Knights Templars to the grand convocation to be held here on October 7 and 8. The first train consists of six sleeping cars, a dining and baggage car, and is occupied by the Golden Gate Commandery. The second train consists of four sleeping cars, a dining and baggage car, and is occupied by the California Commandery. These commanderies are the "crack-a-jack" organizations among the Knights Templars on this coast, and it is the aim of the railroad company to give the excursionists a fast ride. Owing to this fact, it is not known at what time the San Francisco delegation will arrive here today, but it is certain the run will be made in record-breaking time, barring accidents.

THE NEW "LIMITEDS."
The limited trains on the Southern routes start from Los Angeles for Chicago this month on both the Santa Fe and Southern Pacific routes. The new trains are by far the finest ever seen in the western country. Every mode of improvement has been added, and the old-fashioned sleeping cars have been discarded for the vestibule drawing-room cars, built on the English compartment style, much improved and modified, however.

COMING IN STYLE.
An excursion of thirty-two wealthy residents of Boston and their families will arrive in this city en route for San Diego on a special train over the Santa Fe. The excursionists have traveled on the train from Boston, stopping at all the principal points of interest on the routes followed on the way out, and come here direct from Yellowstone Park. The excursionists will remain in San Diego a week or more, and then return to this city for a visit of about the same duration.

OVER THE KITE-SHAPED TRACK.
During the great Masonic gathering here this week the Santa Fe will run a special train, a record-breaker, over the kite-shaped track, and thus give the visitors from the chilly north an extended view of the "sunny southland." The excursion will be run to suit the convenience of the visitors, it being first intended to start on the trip today, but it is probable the Knights will want a rest after their tough ride from the bay, and hence Friday or Saturday will probably be selected.

ORANGE SHIPMENTS.
Arrangements are even now being made by the railroads to supply the orange and lemon-growers of Southern California with facilities for shipping their fruit to the East and Europe. To this end special trains, made up of the latest-improved fruit cars, will be run, and each road will vie with the other in the matter of making time. It is already known that several hundred carloads of oranges have been sold in London for next season's delivery, and the transatlantic steamship companies have arranged to meet the fruit shipments with fast steamers on certain days of the months of shipment.

DELAYED FUNERAL.

A Woman and House Create an Unhappy Disturbance.

A Mexican woman named Katie Solano nearly broke up a funeral on Wesley avenue yesterday afternoon. The dead child of a family named Garland was about to be buried, and Katie was one of the mourners, but unfortunately she fortified herself against grief with alcoholic stimulants. The result was that her conduct was entirely out of keeping with the solemnity of the occasion.

When an attempt was made to lead her out of the presence of the dead, she became violent and chased everybody about the house of the deceased. The funeral directors, who were called in to deal with the situation, were unable to control her. She was finally taken to a hospital in a state of terror, and prevented the funeral from proceeding until Police Officer Fay arrived upon the scene and took her into custody. The drunken fury had no more respect for the officer than for the rest of the people, and she almost fought him to a standstill before he was able to subdue her. Mr. Fay says not in his nine years' experience as a policeman has he handled a more obstreperous prisoner. She is a regular amazon, and Fay had all he could do to manage her. After he had pinned her arms she began to spit in his face, and kept up this disgusting practice so long that his saliva continued to flow. When the officer tried to stop this by putting his hand over her mouth, she bit him. All he could do was to hold her hands and let her spit till the antique pained wagon and the superannuated sled that draws it arrived.

The woman continued her struggles after she was placed in the wagon, and tore all the trimmings off her dress to hurt at the policeman. She was finally landed in the City Jail and will be given a hearing today in the Police Court.

The funeral passed off without further incident, after the drunken woman was removed.

Curious Talk.
"Curious talk" is in favor of Hood's Sarsaparilla, so far as other medicine. Its great cures recorded in truthful, convincing language of grateful men and women, constitute its most effective advertising. Many of these cures are marvelous. They have won the confidence of the people; have given Hood's Sarsaparilla the largest sales in the world, and have made necessary for its manufacture the greatest laboratory on earth. Hood's Sarsaparilla is known by the cures it has made—cures of scrofula, salt rheum and eczema, cures of rheumatism, neuralgia and weak nerves, cures of dyspepsia, liver troubles, catarrh—cures which prove

A FATAL WOUND.

FAT SAVAGE SHOTS BILL ROACH AT SAN PEDRO.

The Men Quarreled Over a Money Transaction. Savage Claiming His Victim Had Robbed Him of Ninety Dollars—The Shooter Arrested.

At San Pedro last night a tailor named Patrick Savage shot and fatally wounded one William Roach. Savage was arrested.

The shooting occurred in the tailor shop of Savage about 7 in the evening. The particulars obtained concerning the tragedy are meager, but the facts so far as learned are as follows: The two men have been dealing together in various enterprises, some of which Savage evidently left entirely in the hands of Roach, so far as the financial part was concerned. Savage claimed yesterday that Roach had stolen $90 from him, and the latter hearing of the accusation, went to the shop.

In the shop the men quarreled with the result that Savage, who was armed with a revolver of large caliber, struck Roach in the abdomen and penetrated the cavity, cutting the intestines and inflicting a mortal wound.

Savage was arrested immediately after the shooting, and is being held to await the result of his shot. Roach was cared for by friends, but the physicians at a late hour last night predicted he would not live until this morning. At last accounts he was sinking fast.

Beyond reiterating that Roach had robbed him of $90, and had started to attack him, Savage would say nothing about the tragedy.

Both men are well known in San Pedro, and Savage is also known here.

ATHLETIC CLUB SMOKER.

Over Eight Hundred Present—Music, Stories and Fun of All Kinds.

Over eight hundred members of the Los Angeles Athletic Club and their friends assembled at the club's rooms on Spring street last night to enjoy a "smoker" and high-jinks. It was aimed to make the affair impromptu, so far as the programme was concerned, knowing that the boys in attendance would be quite as ready to applaud as "josh," and the performers as willing to take chances as the audience.

The gymnasium was turned into an exhibition hall, and as the guests arrived they were furnished with long stemmed clay pipes and tobacco and given a glass of claret punch, which was the "real thing." The club orchestra, consisting of J. G. Stamm, leader; Joe Hadley, violin; Harry Wilcox, cornet; R. P. Rice, flute; Harry Wood, piano, and S. H. Perine, cello, furnished the music for the evening.

Blaisdell, the famous bicyclist, trick rider, gave an exhibition of his skill that won him unstinted applause. Then Fay Stevenson told stories for a little while, and J. A. Farrell followed with popular songs. Alec Brownstein gave a violin solo, and, led by the orchestra, the large audience sang a dozen or more songs.

The billiard and recreation rooms were open, and at the command of as many of the guests as could crowd into them. It was the intention of the club to have a boxing bout or two with "pillows," as the big gloves are called, but this part of the programme was omitted. Bob Brain, chairman of the Entertainment Committee, and Robert Todd, floor assistant, both worked hard to make all present enjoy themselves and certainly succeeded.

The "smoker" was a great success, and a ladies' night will soon follow. The club desires to get all the members to attend the club and club meetings more regularly, and proposes to offer special inducements for them to do so.

BELL IS NOT A BURGLAR.

Complaint Against the Senegreage Dismissed by Justice Owens.

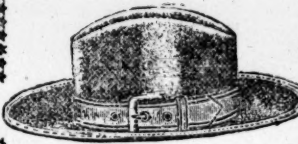

The examination of Albert Bell, on the charge of burglary, was concluded before Justice Owens yesterday, and resulted in the dismissal of the complaint. After the examination of several witnesses, Attorney Appel for the defense moved a dismissal on the ground that it had not been proven that the defendant had any intent to commit burglary, or had done so, in fact. Justice Owens concurred in this view, and dismissed the case, but took occasion to remark that he was satisfied that young Bell had opened the cash register of the Castle saloon, during the temporary absence of the bar-keeper. This much was proven, but no more, in the opinion of the court, and under the circumstances of the case the charge of burglary could not be substantiated.

The Millinery Success of The Season.

They are successful because they deserve to be. So comfortable, and unlike most other comfortable hats, nobby. We do not think there is another store in town that shows half the variety of these that we do, and we know that they do not sell them half so low. In short, there's not a new color in these but will be found here, and at cut rates. Trimmed with leather they will last and look well as long as they last. If you are going to wait a while for your dress hat get one of these and be in style at small cost.
